HISTORY

AP Events is located in the Carlaw Industrial Centre in the Leslieville community of downtown Toronto east. The original structure was home to Jefferson Glass Co. Factory, a major producer of Ontario blown and pressed glass in the early 1910s. The Jefferson Glass Co. specialized in light shades and illuminated signs and by 1918 it was also making about 35,000 light bulbs a day.

The Acme Paper Box Co., founded by Moishe (Moses) Oelbaum, bought the Jefferson factory in 1931. Acme remained a family business until 1964 when it was sold to a conglomerate and the plant became a paper mill.

After the mill moved away in the 1980s, the factory fell into disuse. The area's multi-floor industrial buildings could not accommodate the latest production lines and new laws regulated pollution from heavy industries.

The building was later refurbished and now houses many light industries and businesses including AP Events.

ABOUT AP EVENTS

ABOUT THE SPACE

Steeped in history and style, AP Events venue is the perfect backdrop for meetings and events. Exposed brick, expansive ceilings and an abundance of natural light help to bring any vision to life. From the main corridor, visitors are welcomed through a hallway featuring a skylight and original architectural features. With versatile spaces to accommodate a variety of set ups, the main theatre, mezzanine and studios can be customized to suit all types of events, rentals and celebrations.

As an added bonus, AP Events is pleased to offer in house world class entertainment options ranging from aerialists, hoop performers and dancers.
